

Are Promo Spice Tubes the New Pen?

Pens have long been the default promotional giveaway. They are affordable, colourful and imprintable. And they're boring. Most of us have a drawer full. The thing is, people don't write like they used to because communication has gone online. The writing's on the wall... the promotional product industry is hungry for something new and different to spice things up.

Our Promo Spice Tubes will stimulate your customers' taste buds and give them something spicy to talk about! They are available in hundreds of distinctive spices, each offering opportunities to align it's properties with your message. There's a spice for every theme!

Spice tubes are made of break-resistant acrylic and come with a safety seal. The brand message is featured in the customized Story Booklet and on the lid.
